Frequently Asked Questions

1. When does the new policy take effect?

The updated policy applies to all new bookings made on or after 18 December 2024.

2. Are bookings made before 18 December 2024, subject to the new policy?

Bookings made prior to 18 December 2024, will continue to follow Azamara's previous cancellation policy, which was live at the time of booking.

3. What is the administration fee if I cancel 120 or more days before sailing?

There is a £300 non-refundable fee per person for cancellations made 120 or more days before sailing.

4. Will Government Taxes remain refundable regardless of when cruise is cancelled?

Yes, we will continue to refund Government Taxes paid regardless of when the cruise was cancelled.

5. Does the cancellation fee apply to all guests?

Yes, the cancellation fee applies per person based on each guest's cruise fare.

6. What are the fees if I cancel closer to the departure date?

- 120+ days: £300 of the fare is non-refundable.
- 150–121 days: £300 of the fare is non-refundable.
- 120–91 days: 50% of the fare is non-refundable.
- 90–61 days: 75% of the fare is non-refundable.
- Within 60 days: 100% of the fare is non-refundable.

7. Are there exceptions to the cancellation policy?

Exceptions may apply if travel insurance covers cancellations. Guests should consult with their travel advisor or Azamara's customer service for details.

8. How will this new policy impact travel agent commissions?

The updated policy strengthens commission benefits for our valued travel partners. With 100% penalties now applying at 60 days (instead of 30 days) before sailing, advisors will have 100% of their commission protected earlier.

9. Can I transfer my cruise reservation to another sailing date to avoid cancellation fees?

While transferring a reservation may not waive cancellation fees, our team is here to help find the best option for your situation. Please contact your travel advisor or Azamara's customer service team for more information.

10. When is the full cruise fare due?

The full cruise fare is due 120 days before sailing

11. Can the full fare be paid before 120 days?

Yes, guests are welcome to complete their payment anytime before 120 days prior to sailing.

12. How does this impact Groups?

Group policies will also be adjusted to be in line with FIT policies.

Named Group space will have:

- 120+ days: £300 of the fare is non-refundable.
- 120–91 days: 50% of the fare is non-refundable.
- 90–61 days: 75% of the fare is non-refundable.
- Within 60 days: 100% of the fare is non-refundable.

Unnamed Group space will have:

- 220 Days to Sailing: checkpoint for unsold space
- 180 Days to Sailing: Reduce remaining unnamed space
- 150 Days to Sailing: Final Payment due for all remaining space

13. I am looking to book a Pre/Post, Cruise Stay and Hotel with Azamara, what will be the payment policy for these add-ons for my vacation?

Pre/Post Land programs and Hotels will follow the same Final Payment & Cancellation policies as the cruise.

14. What if we change an effective date to make a booking eligible for a promo? Does Effective Date come into play at all or does the system just look at Init Date?

The new policy will use the effective date to determine payment and any potential cancellation fees.

- An existing booking may adopt the new cancellation policy if it picks up a price/promotion introduced after the policy change date. For example, switching to a new price or promotion—whether through a requested re-fare or a cabin category change—adds a new effective date to the booking, making it subject to the new policy.
- If an existing booking changes cabin categories but retains its original effective date and pricing, it will keep the prior cancellation policy.
